Dean to Be Honored At Banquet, April 27

DATE, GIVEN AS
APRIL 7, CHANGED
AFTER MEETING

C. R. Melcher Is Serving 26th Year As Dean of University Men

TWO GROUPS SPONSOR
PLANNED FESTIVAL

Rank of Professor Emeritus
May Be Conferred
In June

A change in the date of the banquet which will be given in honor of C. R. Melcher, dean of men at the University for the past 26 years, and head of the German department since 1914, was announced Monday, April 3, by the committee in charge of arrangements for the affair. This change was made because the Pres. Frank L. McVey, will be absent from the city on the date for which the dinner was scheduled. The committee deemed it unwise to hold the affair during his absence.

According to tentative arrangements the dinner will be held on Thursday, April 27, instead of Friday, April 7, as it was first announced. Members of the faculty and the student body, alumni of the University, and other friends of the Dean are expected to attend.

This, in all probability, will be Dean Melcher's last semester at the University as an active professor. In June he will be eligible for transfer to the professor-emeritus rank.

Prior to coming to the University in 1907, Dean Melcher served six years as professor of ancient and modern languages at Hanover college, Hanover, Indiana, his alma mater. He received both his bachelor of arts and master's degree from Hanover college, and studied at the Universities of Munich and Leipzig in Germany. He holds doctor-of-law degrees from the University of Louisville and the University of Chicago.

Dean Melcher is a member of the Kentucky Academy of Science, Kentucky Education association, American Association of University Professors, Modern Language Association of America, Delta Tau Delta and Omicron Delta Kappa fraternities.

The committee which has been formulated to work out further details of plans for the occasion will be composed of Dean Sarah Blanding, Mrs. David Young, secretary to Dean Melcher; Miss Helen King, assistant publicity director; Gordon Burns, president of the Inter-fraternal council; I. C. Evans, president of SuKy circle; and John Ewing, president of the Men's Student council.

RADIO PLAY FEATURES TWO U. K. STUDENTS

Miss Mildred Young, and Mr.
Woodrow Coots, sophomores at the University have parts in a one act play to be broadcast over WHAS from 12:45 to 1 on April 5. The name of the play is "Country Cousins" and is sponsored by the 4-H club.

Both Miss Coots and Mr. Young were prominent in 4-H club work some time ago. Miss Young won a trip to Washington in 1931 by her club work and Mr. Young won a $500 scholarship from the International Harvester company for his work in the 4-H club.

Miss Young has the part of Sue Wilson and Mr. Coots has the part of Paul Wilson, her brother.

ALUMNI ATTEND CHEMICAL MEET

Eight Grads Read Papers At Washington Convention of American Society

M. H. BEDFORD RETURNS

Dr. M. H. Bedford, professor of physical chemistry, has just returned from the semi-annual meeting of the American Chemical society, which met in Washington, March 27-30. The next meeting will be in Chicago in September, during the World's Fair.

There were 12 university graduates at the meeting. Of these eight submitted papers on chemical subjects. These eight and their present positions are:

Tom Cross, Johns Hopkins university; G. E. Ferguson, Brooklyn Polytechnic Institute; J. C. W. Fraser, Johns Hopkins, head of chemistry department; C. B. Gnadinger, McLaughlin, Gormley, King and company.

G. B. Johnston, Alabama Poly-technical institute; J. W. Ramsey, Vacuum Oil company; R. C. Roark, U. S. Bureau of Chemistry and Soils; G. S. Stamatoff, Columbia university.

Probably the outstanding speech of the entire program was that of Irving Langmuir, Nobel Laureate in Chemistry, who spoke on "Surface Chemistry." Following this, a concert was given by the National Symphony orchestra, directed by Hans Kindler.

On Thursday afternoon, Mrs.
D. Roosevelt gave a reception and tea at the White House for the wives of those who attended the convention.

Gamma Alpha Chi Announces Contest

Prizes of $10 and $25 Listed By Honorary for Women
Advertisers

Gamma Alpha Chi, national honorary professional advertising society, has announced its second annual advertising contest. All women enrolled in University advertising courses are eligible to compete.

In the last contest, second prize was won by Rita Mount, U. K. student, and first prize was won by a student of the University of Oregon.

To enter the contest, contestants must submit layout for one-color magazine advertisement, not to exceed a full page in one of the women's magazines.

Subjects of the advertisements are to be selected from the following list of nationally advertised products: soap chips, tooth paste, soap, beauty cream, electrical refrigerator, hosiery, railroad, or steamship tour, package cereal, canned fruit or vegetables, bread, coffee or other food products.

Weldon Will Speak Over Radio April 19

Miss Myrtle Weldon, State home demonstration agent of Kentucky, will speak from Chicago over a national hookup on the Land Grant college radio hour, April 19, from 10:30 a. m. to 12:30 p. m. She will give a 15 minute talk on "How Kentucky Women Supplement the Family Income."

On the same program will be some of the most important figures of Home Economics and Experiment Station work in United States educational work.

Miss Weldon will be given over a hookup including the nearby stations of WLW, Cincinnati, and WCKY, Covington.

PLAN TO SELL CANDY TO PURCHASE PIANO

The members of the Home Economics club have inaugurated a five-week candy selling campaign to raise funds with which to purchase a piano. The piano will be loaned by the club to new Women's building. Sale of the candy started Friday in the Agriculture building, and plans are being made to sell candy in all the buildings of the organization, presided. Approximately 25 students were present.

First Night in New Guignol Play Is Voted Successful

All Actors Give Creditable Performances in Casella Drama

By VIRGINIA ROBIN Playing to a capacity house, the Guignol theater opened last night for a week's run with "Death Takes a Holiday." This ambitious production marks the high spot of the season. The play written by Alberto Casella is a charming phantasy based on the incarnation of Death as Prince Sirk of Russia.
Frank Fowler, director-actor of the little theater, as Prince Sirk of Russia, Vitalba Alexandri, does the most subtle piece of acting ever seen on the Guignol stage.

Mr. Fowler has been in many Guignol productions and has always given pleasing interpretations, but in "Death Takes a Holiday," he surpasses anything he has done before. He brings to the theater an air of professionalism, particularly noticeable in his dramatic entrance in the first act. Mr. Fowler is the only one in the cast who seems to take advantage of the opportunity offered by the set arrangement which affords the actors an upstage center entrance. The duel of Death and Prince Sirk is an exacting one and calls into play many voice inflections, over which Mr. Fowler is a complete master.

Ruth Wehle brings to the part of Grazia, the eighteen year old daughter of the Princess de San Luca, a patrician beauty and an air of one who lives "in the shadowy places of the imagination." She, of all people in the cast, looks at Death as a friend and a lover rather than a formidable enemy, and it is her trusting faith in Death that convinces the audience that perhaps after all Death can be "infinitely more kind and more desirable than life." Miss Wehle's voice is softly modulated and carries with it a haunting quality of the spiritual.

Dr. George K. Brady, a favorite with Guignol audiences, handles a very difficult role with dexterity. The robust Duke Lambert de Catolica stands fearlessly before Prince Sirk to save his loved ones, and offers himself to Death in exchange for the life of Grazia. Doctor Brady can always be depended upon to give a satisfactory interpretation of whatever role he carries.

Bess Wilkerson, as the glamorous Aida, lends interest and color to several scenes which can be rated among the high spots of the play.
Mrs. Wilkerson has a beautifully trained voice and gives her lines their truest meaning.

One of the best small parts in "Death Takes a Holiday," is strongly portrayed by Lieut. Howard Criswell, a newcomer to the Guignol stage. As a member of the Foreign Legion who has faced Death many times, he affords the audience many chuckles through the irony of his conversations with Prince Sirk.
Lieutenant Criswell's dominating personality grips the audience and it is hoped that this will not be his final appearance in Lexington's little theater.

Woodson Knight, Guignol veteran, as Corrado, the fiance of Grazia and the son of Duke Lambert, does the nicest bit of acting he has ever done. He gives the role a feeling of sincerity, and speaks his lines with an ease born of experience.

As the Baron Cesarea, George White Ethian is delightful and American Chemists To Hear Dr. E. Mack

Dr. Edward Mack, Jr., professor of physical chemistry at Ohio State university, will speak at the regular meeting of the American Chemical society at 4 p. m. April 11 in Kastle hall. His subject will be "The Passage of Gases and Vapours through Porous Membranes."

Doctor Mack is well known nationally as a research chemist and has given many well-attended lectures throughout the country. He has appeared at the University to give lectures twice before.

The public is cordially invited to attend this lecture and it is expected that many will avail themselves of this privilege.

AGRICULTURISTS RECEIVE REQUESTS ABOUT MACHINE

Many requests are being received at the College of Agriculture for the plans and specifications of the new type tobacco curing ventilator which was designed by the Agriculture Engineers of the University.

Growers who used this ventilator last year are very enthusiastic over its results. Those using it received from $2.00 to $9.50 more per 100 pounds than tobacco cured otherwise.

PROF. ANDERSON ADDRESSES MED-TECH SOCIETY FRIDAY

Prof. W. S. Anderson, of the department of genetics, was the guest speaker at the Med-Tech society, newly organized society of the bacteriology department, at the meeting held Friday night, March 31, in Kastle hall. Professor Anderson's topic dealt with the relation between bacteriology and genetics.
Stewart Barney, president of the organization, presided. Approximately 25 students were present.

W. A. C. OFFERS DINNER PLANS, ANNUAL PARTY

Outstanding Women May Be Given Valuable
Awards

ALPHA GAM CUP TO FROSH LEADER

Pleasing Entertainments Are On Moderate Program
For Evening

An interesting program for the Women's Administration Council has been prepared by the program committee for the W. A. C. annual banquet to be held on April 10 at the University Commons.

Special awards will be given to outstanding women on the campus.
The Alpha Gamma Delta cup which has been given annually since 1921 will be given to the outstanding freshman girl. This girl will be selected by a secret committee of four on the basis of scholarship and activities. A committee of seven have been appointed to select the outstanding junior woman on the campus for an annual award given by the W. S. G. A. Jane Dyer received the award last year.

Special recognition will be given to all women students who have made standings of 3 either last semester or the second semester of last year. This is the only banquet of the year at which all women students will be allowed to attend.

Spring pledging will be held by Chi Delta Phi, honorary literary society, and by Phi Mu Epsilon, honorary home economics society, during the banquet.

The Girl's Glee club, directed by Miss Mildred Lewis, will sing several numbers. Hazel Nollau, Jane Ann Matthews and Elizabeth Montague will give a novelty tap dance routine.

The faculty stunt will be presented by the faculty brides, division of the Women's club of the University.
A students stunt will be presented made up of one girl from each sorority, each dormitory, and by a town girl.
A toast to women students will be given by Ruby Evans. President Frank L. McVey will deliver a short address.

W. A. C. COUNCIL PLANS ELECTION

Association Sponsors Hike Saturday in Conjunction With Civic League of Lexington

Senior members of the Women's Athletic association council met, after the regular council meeting at 4 p. m., Monday, April 3, in Miss Laura K. Johnson's office to consider nominations for the officers for W. A. A. for next year, and to make plans for the annual election of officers.

At a meeting Thursday the decision was made to substitute an informal outing to take the place of the annual W. A. A. banquet held each year, and to hold installation of officers at that time.

A hike sponsored in connection with the Civic league of Lexington, was announced for Saturday. Hikers will leave at 1:45 p. m. from Gratz park (back of the City library).

For the remainder of the year the Athletic program includes three weeks of daily practice in both archery and baseball, beginning April 18. Archery practice, conducted by Pearl Zink, will be held at 3 p. m., each week day, on the Women's athletic field, back of Patterson hall. Baseball practice directed by Sarah Purnell, will be at 4 p. m. All girls are eligible to participate in these and all other sports sponsored by W. A. A.

BREWER ISSUES ORDER

The following order was issued yesterday by Major B. E. Brewer, commandant of the military department:

"In the event it becomes necessary to postpone either battalion or regimental parades on account of inclement weather on the date scheduled, a guidon will be hoisted on the flagpole under the national flag at least one hour before the hour scheduled for the parade.

PROF. JAMES MARTIN ATTENDS TAX MEETING

Prof. James W. Martin, director of the University Bureau of Business research, left for the University of North Carolina Saturday to attend a meeting of the Social Science Research council's southern tax committee, of which Professor Martin is chairman.

It is expected that, in addition to agencies of the Social Science Research council, certain committees of the Southeastern council will participate in the conference on efficiency in production.

Professor Martin is expected to return to the University on Thursday and to participate in a conference here at the end of the week.

HIGH SCHOOL WEEK

Kentucky will be host the week of April 11-15 to 2,500 high school students representing 276 of the leading preparatory institutions in the state. The event is the annual high school week, with the high school music festival, April 13-15, as an outstanding feature of the program. These students will occupy the University residence halls during this period as the regular students will have left the campus for the Easter holidays.

All of the boys and girls taking part in this program are prospective students at the University. During the time that they are the guests of Kentucky, an excellent opportunity will be afforded them to become better acquainted with the University. Buildings will be searched thoroughly for intimate information as to their size and content, and a complete tour of the campus most likely will be taken sometime during the week, if only by private parties of students. The University is unusually interesting to high school students. They dream of the day when they will be able to matriculate at Kentucky.

The instructive and cultural side of the week's events is worthy of comment. Included among the various phases of preparatory school work are debate, oral interpretation, music, discussion, extemporaneous speaking, and oratorical declamation. Education in the state is given great stimulus by this high school week. The University is to be commended for its share in the praiseworthy work. The Kernel, on behalf of the student body, welcomes the students and their friends to Kentucky.

PSYCHOLOGY OF LIFE

When the psychology department announced last week that it would open a Personality Development bureau the news was received with enthusiasm by the student body. The move is in step with the time and will better fit those students, who take advantage of the clinic, for the psychological problems to be faced in life after graduation.

The service, which the department of psychology is to render will be free. Four hours are to be given each week by the psychologists who lead the discussion of the improvement of personality, vocational guidance, mental well-being, and other pertinent topics. Students must make appointments in advance by calling the department.

This Personality Development bureau resulted from numerous requests that came into the psychology department asking it to establish such a service. It is a great improvement on the old psychological clinic which for the past ten years has done similar work in a smaller capacity.

NARROW PATHS

It is a common fault among people to be ignorant of their surroundings. One may live within a short distance of a magnificent natural phenomenon and never visit it. One may dwell within the heart of a great coal district and know nothing of its mining. One may have access to the greatest library in the world and never take advantage of the opportunity afforded.

In the same way, college students frequently fail to become acquainted with their campus. Some of them have matriculated at a university or college for four years and are acquainted only with those parts of the campus where they have classes.

At the University of Pittsburgh, due to lack of space, a great cathedral of learning, constituting one of the largest skyscrapers in the city, was built. Students there have no campus. They are deprived of the opportunity of following higher academic pursuits in natural surroundings.

The University of Kentucky is more fortunate in this respect. Its campus is one of the most beautiful in the South. Students are given the opportunity to observe many phases of nature. But many of them are inclined to regard the campus only as a group of buildings. Such an attitude is not conducive to reaping the entire benefits of intellectual growth. Those students who cannot appreciate their campus are losing an integral part of their education.

And for you that have been demanding news of the new English picture "Cavalcade," enthusiastically heralded by all critics as one of Noel Coward's best plays, the Kentucky theater has its local showing scheduled to open April 16. A little more patience!

Carl Laemmle presents Clyde Beatty, world famous lion trainer, in the "Big Cat," on the screen of the Kentucky theater, beginning Thursday.

Beatty wrote the story from which the picture is adapted in collaboration with Edward Anthony. In the supporting cast are Anna Page, Andy Devine, Vince Barnett, Mickey Rooney, Wallace Ford, and Raymond Hatton. Kurt Neumann directed the picture.

If you see anyone turn to the editorial page of The Kernel, take one glance, and then stuff it in his pocket, you can wager that he thinks "Quis vadit?" is after him!

A'ROAMIN' THE RIALTO

By JOAN CARIGAN

Naughty, gaudy, sporty, Forty-second street Boulevard of Bluff and Ballyhoo, symbolizing America's theatrical center! It's all there...the very essence of effervescent Broadway is caught in "42nd Street," playing this week at the Strand theater.

More than just a vivid backstage drama, its beats and pulses to the rhythm of nimble dancers' tireless feet, and the irresistible intoxication of tuneful music dispensed by the flower of metropolitan orchestras, Warner Baxter, as the director of the show, is seen in what is probably his best portrayal. Ruby Keeler, Mrs. Al Jolson in everyday life, makes her screen bow as a little girl who gets the breaks and makes the most of them.

Bebe Daniels is the star of the show who lets her producer down on the opening night. Others among the 14 stars heading the cast of "42nd Street" are George Brent, Guy Kibbee, Dick Powell, Ginger Rogers, Una Merkel, Allen Jenkins, and George E. Stone.

Diana Wynyard, May Robson, Ruth Selwyn, Hedda Hopper, and Mary Carlisle, who comprise the feminine membership of the cast of "Men Must Fight," opening Thursday at the Ben Ali, were asked to take an odd pledge during the filming of the new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production. Most of the action of the picture is laid in 1940 and the players were requested not to copy for private use the gowns designed for them by Adrian, Lewis Stone, Phillip Holmes, and Robert Young have the male leads in the picture.

THE KENTUCKY KERNEL

conducted by JANE ANN MATTHEWS

The two dollar prize for the best poem submitted in the March poetry contest is awarded, by the selection of Prof. Grant C. Knight, English department, to "M. P." for the poem "Charity." M. P., an undergraduate student in the University, wishes to remain anonymous. Other contributions by M. P. which have appeared during the last month are "Lines Provoked by the Study of Lachamia" and "On Interviewing Professor Dantler."

"Charity" was judged best of all March entries, on the basis of its excellent verse form, and its clever correlation of idea and phrase with correct metrical form.

Her prize winning and one other poem appear below:

CHARITY
A beggar woman stopped to ask if we had any dresses we would give away;

I rummaged round and found an old pique;

It was the dress that I had worn when he And I were last together. Could it be,

Of all the happiness was ours that day,

Nothing was left, but one worn white pique?

Life was too hard—Life was not fair with me!

Then I remembered her, who waited there;

I saw life had been cruel to her, too, But she did not complain. The hand was bare

And cold, which took the dress. She said, "Twill do To make a baby cloak." She did not care

That life was hard. She gave me courage too.

Alphatow pic Bill Heath has "rhythm in his soul"...Friday night at the Junior Prom all eyes were centered upon him and his partner...but Bill danced on...unmindful of the attention being paid him Bill continued with his waltzing...suddenly he became aware that the music had stopped several minutes before.

Triangle "Red" Davis said his organization had a very quiet and "unhilarious" week-end.

More nominations for best dressed ede and co-eds...Alphagam Sue Layton, Fyegis Howard Baker, Triangle Jack Faunce, Deltaw Ned Turnbull, Alphataw Gaylon Harvey, Alphazee Ruby Dunn, and Kaydey Mary Temp Faulkner.

Kahpa Elizabeth Woodward spent the week-end in Louisville...returned with a Plymouth roadster and a loaf of ginger bread. The Tri-Dels are looking forward to a chapter bid to the Sigalph dinner dance next Saturday night...Leslie "Algie" Scott visits the Alphagam on Sunday afternoon and takes several for a ride...she sings "Let Me Call You Sweetheart" to some member of the Alphagam chapter.

Alphatow bids are very horsey...Tri-Delt Louis Johnson has a sunburn to remember her trip to Florida...Elizabeth Barbiere. What will "Ching" Webb say about your college career?

Alphagam Ruth Wehle appeared in class Wednesday with a large bunch of violets. (Sweetheart of S. A. E. maybe?)

A questionnaire submitted to the graduating class of a girls' high school in South Philadelphia revealed that 10 of them "neck" because they like it; 12 because they consider it one of the social amenities; while 14 others refused to comment...22 chose brunettes...seven desired blondes...and seven selected red-heads...30 and forded over their small change (the bank holidays were still on).

Day-Lee

Announcement has just been made of the marriage of Miss Dorothy Day to Mr. Halbert Lee, January 31, in Jeffersonville, Ind.

Both the bride and groom are graduates of the Henry Clay High school and students at the University. Mrs. Lee is a member of Alpha Gamma Delta, the Glee Club, and is treasurer of Owens. Mr. Lee, Pi Kappa Alpha, is talented musically and is a member of the Kentucky Cardinals quartette.

The couple will make their home with the parents of the groom and will continue their studies at the University.

Biggerstaff-Howard

Mrs. John Steele, of Woodford county, has announced the marriage of her daughter, Agnes Biggerstaff, to Mr. John McCaw Howard, January 4, at Jeffersonville, Ind.

Mr. Howard, a graduate of the College of Engineering, is the son of Mrs. Nina McCaw Howard, Lexington. The bride attends Nazareth College, Bardstown.

The couple will make their home with Mr. and Mrs. Steele temporarily.

Junior Prom

The junior class entertained with its annual Promenade from nine until one Friday night in the Alumni gymnasium.

A special event of the evening was the pledging ceremony by Lances, honorary junior fraternity, of the following: Messrs. Henry C. McCown, Jack Faunce, John Kincheloe, Oscar Reuter, Rice Smith, William Cosley, Al Block, James Curtis Everett Beers, William Dawson, John Geyer, William King, William Greathouse, Vernon Nugent, Wallace Bailey, and Waller Hunt, Jr.

Miss Mary Alice Palmer was crowned queen of the Prom, having been presented to the dance by the members of Scabbard and Blade. She was dressed in white chiffon and carried a large bouquet of red roses.

Chaperones were Dean and Mrs. Columbus Melcher, Dean Sarah Blanding, Dean and Mrs. W. S. Taylor, Captain and Mrs. Clyde Grady, Mrs. Ballard Luxon, Miss Letty Hoover, Miss Marguerite McLaughlin, and Mrs. Hagan.

Dinner at Maxwell Place

President and Mrs. Frank L. McVey entertained with a delightful formal dinner Saturday evening at their home on the campus, Maxwell Place.

The entire house was decorated with lavender and yellow spring flowers. The guests were served at tables in the dining room, library, and sun room.

An honored guest for the occasion was Mr. Charles Kent, Louisville, who was a week-end guest at the President's home. Mr. Kent is a student at Dartmouth college.

The guests, who numbered about forty, enjoyed bridge later in the evening.

Dinner Before Prom

Keys and Lances, honorary sophomore and junior fraternities, gave a dinner-dance Friday evening in the ball room of the Phoenix hotel preceding the annual Junior Prom.

Spring flowers formed the decorations, and music was furnished by the Kentucky Masqueraders.

The members of Keys are Messrs. Harry Walker, John Faunce, William Dawson, Mills Darnell, Waller Hunt, Jr., John Kincheloe, Oscar Reuter, Eddie Smith, Ben Taylor, and William King.

Lances members are Messrs. Ira Lyle, Harvey Mattingly, Hugh Van Antwerp, William Mellor, Miles Davis, J. B. Croft, O. B. Murphy, Reynolds Faber, Hamilton Greenup, Willard Groves, Turner Howard, Lucien Congleton, and Thomas Rowlett.

Dean Sarah Holmes, Mr. and Mrs. Bernie Shively, and Miss Marguerite McLaughlin acted as chaperones.

ALSTON TO ASSUME CHURCH PASTORATE

REVEREND W. M. ALSTON

has been without a pastor since the last of December when Dr. Howard Morgan resigned to succeed his father, Rev. Dr. Campbell Morgan, as pastor of the Presbyterian tabernacle in Philadelphia.

SEEN FROM THE PRESS BOX

By DELMAR ADAMS

Unless the heavens cease their pourings and the winds take on a balmy degree, Coach Bernie Shively's track athletes will hardly be in top shape for their opening meet which is scheduled with the Vanderbilt Commodores on April 15. But plenty of credit is due the Wildcat men. Despite inclement weather, "Shive" can be found out on the track clad in his big red jacket, putting his team through their paces. Even when it rains he gives the boys just enough work to keep them in condition.

Several issues ago we started out our pressbox with the statement that the only major sport at the University at present is the track team. Unfortunately the linotype operator left out the word "major" and the statement read, "The only spring sport is track." We wish to apologize to Coach J. C. Jones of the golf team, Coach H. H. Downing of the tennis team, and the members of the tennis and golf squads.

These sports, rather new to the University, have forged to the front in recent years and the tennis team is ranked as one of the best in the South. The golf team, although not so formidable last season, has great promise of developing into a great aggregation this season with the addition of several talented sophomore golfers and the return to form of the three letter-men.

The athletic department and Coach Jones have added a fresh golf team to the list of athletic teams representing the University and with several experienced men on hand should be able to defeat all its foes.

Will Honors Never Cease?
Captain "Aggie" Sale, recently named for the second time as all-American forward and the only man on last year's team to be named on this year's team, was featured on the sports page of the Creighton university "Creightonian" of March 30. Fully half a column was devoted by Sports Editor John Sullivan to the all-American team. Several paragraphs of excellent tribute were given to Sale along with a cut of the Wildcat captain.

Spring again brings the baseball season and with no varsity team representing the University, students will turn attention to intramural diamond ball, the local semi-pro team, or will follow the various major-league clubs via the daily papers.

Intramural diamond-ball was extremely well played last year; the teams were evenly matched and the games were hard fought and interesting. Diamond ball has become almost as important in this section as baseball. The city of Lexington has provided flood lights so that the sport may be played at night under the arcs and a larger number of persons can see the games.

Many of the boys who formerly played baseball on the Wildcat teams or who are prospective can-candidates for the team, will play with the Eppings, the local semi-pro team. "Frenchy" DeMoisey, basketball captain-elect and exponent of the twist shot will hurl for the loc-eals and he does that almost as well as he flies in his "power" shots.

Ellis Johnson, Dutch Kreuter, Elmer Gilb, and Ray Rhoades are some of the other Cat athletes or former players who will probably form part of the Epping team.

All the prominent baseball pro-pagists point out the unfortunate Cincinnati Reds as the logical choice for the cellar place in the National league. We do not believe the Redlegs are a logical consideration for the crown, but neither do we believe that they will finish last.

Winter trades improved the Reds quite a bit and their only weakness seems to be at second base and the need of another left hander of any kind or sort. Just to be different we pick the teams to finish in this order in the National league: Chi-ago, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, St.

Louis, Cincinnati, Brooklyn, Boston and New York. The last five teams are so evenly matched that there is likely to be a tight battle for the fourth position but New York's struggling Giants seem destined for the dampness of the cellar.

INDEPENDENTS ARE NEW CHAMPS

For the third successive season, the Independents have been crowned basketball champions of the University. They closed their season last week with a win over the Phi Delta Theta quintet, title holders of the fraternity division. In winning their way to the University finals, the Independents swept aside all opposition and came through the season without a defeat.

Since the reorganization of the Intramural department in 1930, when C. W. Hackensmith took over the duties as intramural supervisor, the Independents have mono-poltized most of the various competitions.

This year alone, teams representing the Independents have won in volleyball, basketball and cross-country intramural competition. In boxing and wrestling they more than doubled the number of points of any other single organization on the campus. In tennis, an Independent representative went to the finals, while the handball title was also carried off by the same team.

The Independents have no added advantage over the competing fraternities as they are allowed only 35 men at the start of each semester and any changes that are made in the original list can only be made when a vacancy occurs and must be reported to the intramural department. This arrangement places both the fraternities and the Independents on an equal basis.

Diamond ball is the next big intramural team sport to look forward and the Independents hope to win their fourth title of the year as the prospects this season are brighter than ever.

The Yale divinity school is to become co-educational, it was disclosed this week in the school's annual report. The number women to be admitted will be limited to 10, however.
